KURA

Asanda Majola joined Signa Academy's learnership programme in February 2024, grabbing the opportunity to pursue a career in Business Administration. Her sponsor, Kura, a global independent outsourcer, offered hands-on workplace training and experience to support her learnership.

Currently, Asanda is strengthening her knowledge and fortifying her experience with Kura.

THE CHANCE TO APPLY AT SIGNA ACADEMY

"I found Signa Academy on social media, while I was studying". For Asanda, this was an exciting, life-changing moment that could open doors to future opportunities. With hard work, experience, training, and consistency Asanda feels optimistic. "My plans for the future is to study and get a job that I have experience for".

EXPERIENCE IN MANY INDUSTRIES

Kura works with over 50 leading brands worldwide and was recognised as one of the top 50 inspiring places to work in 2023. This experience allows Asanda to combine knowledge and practice, providing her with insight into how clients operate, which in turn helps her work more effectively, efficiently, and innovatively. Having diverse skills and approaches at one's fingertips can transform workplaces and make an individual stand out in their strengths and abilities.

A PIECE OF ADVICE

Asanda's advice puts to rest anyone doubting about taking a learnership, "I advise others that when you do a learnership, you can find employment because of the work experience you gain from the learnership".
